[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 30.

Severe Storm off the Northeastern Coast.

St. Johns, N. B., September 29.—Telegrams from Cape Breton and Newfoundland state that the gale of September 23d and 24th was of unusual severity, sweeping over the whole island of Newfoundland and prostrating the telegraph for miles. C. W. Field arrived here to-day from Sheffield, having left the Medway and Terrible in the straits of Northumberland, laying new cable between New Brunswick and Prince Edward's Island.

From Washington.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Herald's special dispatches say an unusually protracted session yesterday has been the cause of no little speculation. The knowing ones aver that aside from the consideration of the removals and appointments, the subject of the Mexican affairs was discussed. Rumor even goes so far as to declare that information has reached the Government that Maximilian intends to abandon Mexico by December. The Administration is considering how best to act in restoring the Liberal Government to power.

A large number of politicians are from New York in town, called hither by a belief that there is to be a general sweep of officers at State. There are also office seekers [illegible] from Maine, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Notwithstanding the severe storm the anterooms of the White House were crowded yesterday but not more than one third obtained an interview. There is great consternation over the political situation and the President alone seems confident of success. All the others are hungry to get office before the rush takes place.

The issue of 5-20s with interest payable in May having exhausted the limits of $80 000 000, those hereafter issued to exchange for 7-30s and other securities, will bear interest from January 1 1866. The disbursements of treasure on the account of different Executive Departments, for the quarter ending September 30th, were $14,261,221.

The New York Times on the Democratic Party.

Chicago, September 30.—The New York Times of Friday morning, September 28th, says: The old ghosts of Democratic mischief will not down for anybody's scolding. They will haunt the Democratic party, and push their shadows from their stools for many a long day to come. The evil that political parties do lives after them, and the course pursued by the Democratic party as a political organization during the rebellion will no more be forgotten than the record of the Federalists was after the war of 1812. The record of the Democratic party during the war is disloyal and unpatriotic in its organized action. The Democratic party throughout the North in all its party action took ground against the Government, and practically in aid of the rebellion. It began to repent immediately after the war was closed, and tried to change its grounds. At Philadelphia it went a step further and while accepting the declaration of principles in substantial harmony with the action of the Union party during the war professed a willingness to lay aside all party projects and join under new auspices in a new organization with men of all parties to carry these principles into practical effect, but no sooner did the State Convention meet than the old party flag was run up. The old party leaders took command, and an old craft with all sails set steered for the Democratic party. The convention had not a thought beyond party success and the plunder it would thus enjoy. The people understood this game and intend to block it. They do not mean to replace the Democratic party in power. They will not reward it for its disloyalty, nor will they trust it with interests, to which, in the past, it has proved unfaithful. It is with them not a question of argument but of confidence. They care nothing for Democratic resolutions, pledges, professions or promises. They will not trust the Democratic party.

Gen. Grant's Position.

The following letter General Grant has ordered published:

Headquarters Armies of the U. S., Washington, Sept 19, 1866.—To Brevet Brigadier General W. A. Hill, New York: I see from the papers that you have been making a speech in which you pledged me to a political party. I am, further, in receipt of a letter from Gen. Gresham of Indiana in which he says that his opponent for Congress had published an extract from a letter received from you in which you pledged me to the support of President Johnson, and as opposed to the election of any candidate who does not support his policy. You nor no man living is authorized to speak for me in political matters, and I ask you to desist in future. I want every man to vote according to his own judgment, without influence from me.

Yours, etc.,
U. S. GRANT.

ADAM BADEAU. (A true copy.)

European News.

A Paris letter says the British Government has offered his Holiness an asylum on the Island of Malta, in case he should feel inclined to leave the Eternal City, but later accounts from Florence inform us that a much better understanding between the King of Italy and the Sovereign Pontiff now exists, and there is every probability of an amicable solution of the long-standing Italian Government.

The cholera has re-appeared on the French and Italian seaboards at Marseilles, Nice, Genoa and Naples. In Marseilles an alarming increase of cases has taken place, more than 60 deaths occurring daily scattered over the whole city without distinction of districts.

A Commission of Deputies from the Greek Isle of Crete have forwarded a petition to President Johnson asking the interference of the United States in behalf of the Christians who wished to be delivered from the yoke of the Sultan.

The Text of the new Convention between the Emperor Napoleon and Maximilian is published as having been signed on the 30th of July, by which the Mexican Government grants to the French Government an assignment of one half the receipts of all maritime customs of the Empire arising from under mentioned duties and principal and special import and export duties on all articles. The export dues of the Pacific ports are already pledged to the extent of three-fourths of the terms of assignment now made. The French stipulate that moneys derived from it shall be applied first to the interests of the sinking fund, and all obligations arising out of the two loans contracted in 1864-65 by the Mexican Government. And to the payment of interest at the rate of three per cent on the amount of 216,000,000 francs which the Mexican Government has acknowledged itself to be due by virtue of a convention at Miramar, and of all sums subsequently advanced in any shape, from the French treasury. The amount of liability created which now approximates the sum of 250,000,000 francs, shall hereafter be fixed in a different manner. In the event of amount received being insufficient for the full payment of the debt above mentioned the right of holders of the bonds of the two loans and of the French Government shall remain completely reserved. The duties are to be collected by special agents under the French flag.

London, Sept. 28.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic Telegraph Company resolved to increase the capital of the Company. It was promised that tolls for messages should be shortly reduced.

The treaty of peace between Italy and Austria will be signed in a day or two.

The Forthcoming Message.

New York, Oct. 1.—The Herald's Washington special says the President, it is understood, is devoting every moment he can spare to the preparation of his annual message. It is believed that he will adhere rigidly to his present line of policy and will take the ground that in the preparation of new amendments to the Constitution all States that claim and are willing to exercise the right shall be represented. He will also suggest to Congress a proposition for an amendment to the proposition of representation on amending the representation of States according to the number of qualified male voters as prescribed by each State amendment, to take effect when the census of 1870 has been taken.

Another special it is stated that the monthly report of the public debt for September will show a decrease of $15,000,000 in the indebtedness, and a large increase of specie on hand.

Arrival of California Steamer.

Mexican Dispatches.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Senor Romero received a dispatch dated Chihuahua, the 2d. President Juarez had appointed Gen. Ruza governor and military commander of Zacatecas. Gen. Ruza was instructed to march with all the available forces of his command upon the city of Durango and to attack it in combination with the forces of General Marnera. General Diego Alvarez has been appointed military governor of Guerrero. The official paper of Chihuahua publishes an important correspondence from Gen. Bazaine to Gen. Donarg captured by Gen. Escobedo, showing the difficult position in which the French army is placed in Mexico. The principle dispatches are written in cipher.

New York, Oct. 1.—The Herald says Gen. Santa Anna, at his headquarters on Staten Island, is untiring in his efforts for rescue for Mexican independence. He has received dispatches from Liberal chiefs in that country to be prompt and assist them, and his presence is required in a communication from a quarter unlooked for. An expedition has already started consisting of about 2,000 men who before the Imperial authorities will receive news of their departure will have landed on the Mexican coast. About eleven commissions have been issued to Americans who have [illegible].

An envoy from the coast of France arrived recently in this city, and has had several interviews with Gen. ——, but the recent action of that veteran shows that the French diplomats cannot influence him much.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Two more persons scalded by the explosion on the steamer Julia died yesterday. Several others supposed at first to be slightly injured inhaled the steam to such an extent that little hope is entertained of their recovery.

The Kaolin Mining and Manufacturing Company filed its certificate of incorporation to-day. The object of the corporation is the mining of kaolin and other minerals and the manufacture of the proceeds of such mining into fire bricks and other articles. OREGON LEGISLATURE

Fourth Regular Session.

Senate.

SALEM, Saturday Sept 29 1866.

Prayer by Rev Mr Williams.

Mr DOLPH from Committee on Education, reported back S. B. No 3—relating to common schools—with a recommendation that it be referred to the committee of the whole. It was referred.

PROPOSITIONS AND MOTIONS.

Mr CARTWRIGHT gave notice of a bill to repeal and amend certain sections of the Criminal Code.

Mr JEFFRIES moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate passed S. B. No 5—relating to Pilot Commissioners at Umpqua river.

Mr PRESIDENT said the bill had been sent to the House, and the Senate could not therefore reconsider.

Mr DOLPH gave notice of a bill to provide for the recovery of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer and of forcible holding over by tenants after expiration of lease.

Mr JEFFRIES moved that the House be requested to return S. B. No 5, which was agreed to.

Mr MILLER moved that the Senate take a recess till ten minutes to twelve, which was not agreed to.

Mr JEFFRIES moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate requested the House to return S. B. No 5. The motion prevailed.

The vote being taken on the motion to request the return of the bill it was negatived.

READING OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 6—to regulate the foreclosure of chattel mortgages—was read third time and passed: yeas 20; nays none; absent 2.

A MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Was received announcing the non-concurrence of the House in the Senate amendment to H. J. R. No 8—relating to requisition on the military authorities for troops to protect the inhabitants of Eastern Oregon. [The amendment was the substitution of a memorial to Gen. Steele for the request to the Governor to make a requisition for troops.—REPORTER.]

Mr PYLE moved that the Senate recede from its amendment.

Mr CARTWRIGHT wanted to hear the reasons for the motion to recede.

Mr PYLE. It is folly to call for aid from the military authorities when we know that there are no troops at the disposal of the Commanding General. It is worse than folly to be wasting time in that kind of way when our fellow-citizens are being shot down in the broad light of day and tomahawked in the darkness of night, when every day there is news of new massacres, new robberies, and fresh depredations. We have before petitioned the government for aid and our petitions have been disregarded, the authorities have turned a deaf ear to our earnest entreaties. What is our State militia for and what is the Governor at the head of the militia for? If we cannot get aid from the U. S. authorities let the militia be turned out. It is the duty of the State to protect her citizens if it takes half the wealth of the State—yes if it takes the other half—if it bankrupts the State and all its people. It is sacred duty that cannot be ignored.

Mr STERNS. The motion of the gentleman from Union is inconsistent with his remarks. I do not understand the object of the motion to recede. The opposition in the House to the memorial—the amendment made by the Senate—may have been because it was bifalutin, or not in language that suited some gentlemen, and it may be true that if more time had been allowed, the memorial might have been drawn in better language or in words better calculated to have the affect intended. The purpose of the memorial is to call upon the military authorities for immediate protection, and whoever is in earnest about affording immediate protection will make no objection to the mere language of the memorial, or stand upon any phraseology adopted in the call. We are entitled to simple and immediate protection from the Government, and it will do no harm to demand it of the military authorities. If they fail to afford it, there will then be no harm to call on the Governor for State protection. The people of eastern Oregon are in present peril. I have seen letters received within a day or two from John Day's river, stating that the danger was great and every day increasing. The Indians are becoming so bold as to even come about houses and shoot the dogs in the people's door yards. There can be no harm in passing the memorial. Though it may not secure the end sought it is none the less the duty of the Government, first, and of the State second, to protect our people. He was opposed to receding. We ought first to call on the military authorities and if we fail there, then call on the State.

Mr PALMER. The only difference, really, between the memorial and the House resolution, is that the former states the reasons why the call is made, and the latter does not. It makes little difference whether we call on the commandant of the Division of the Pacific or the Department of the Columbia. In either case the matter would be referred to the other. If receding from the amendment will facilitate matters any I am willing to recede. He believed that a requisition from the Governor as provided by the House resolution would be the most speedy way of asking and procuring the aid needed. The matter should be placed in the hands of the Governor that the application may be made at once. To refuse to recede would necessitate a committee of conference which would make a delay of several days. The application should be made immediately, and then if the protection is not afforded, it would become the duty of the State to act.

Mr CARTWRIGHT was in favor of immediate action and said the speediest possible relief should be afforded our people. He was informed that the danger was becoming exceedingly imminent, that the Indians were within eighty miles of the Dalles.

Mr HINSDALE thought that a strong reason for receding is that if the Governor be authorized to act, the demand can be made at once, while the memorial could not reach Gen Steele perhaps sooner than two or three weeks.

Mr JEFFRIES favored the motion to recede as the quickest mode of placing our demand before the military commandant. It is stated that the Governor has information that troops are now on the way. If they cannot be relied on to afford relief we must act, the militia must be called out. The memorial, he thought, would occasion delay. What the people in Eastern Oregon want is a quick, sharp remedy for the evils they are suffering.

Mr HUSTON hesitated about receding, as our action had undoubtedly already come to the knowledge of Gen Steele.

Mr PYLE explained that his former remarks were made under a misapprehension of the resolution—he thought at the time that it was merely instructions to the committee to report a bill for raising troops.

The motion to recede was agreed to.

Mr DONNELL said that Gov Woods being present he would move that he be requested to make a statement of such information as he might have in relation to the steps already taken to secure military protection. The motion was agreed to.

Gov WOODS, in answer to the invitation read before the Senate the telegrams which had passed between himself, the Secretary of War, and Gen Steele. [The substance of these telegrams was telegraphed to the OREGONIAN and published in Saturday's issue.—REPORTER.]

On motion of Mr CARTWRIGHT the Senate took a recess till five minutes before twelve o'clock.

11 55 A. M.—The Senate met.

Mr BAYLEY moved to repair to the hall of the House, to vote for U. S. Senator.

Mr PALMER moved a call of the Senate, which was ordered. Absent—Messrs Johnson and Pyle.

The absentees appearing the further call of the House was dispensed with and

Mr BAYLEY'S motion was agreed to.

IN SENATE.

The Senate met and adjourned till Wednesday, the 3d day of October.

House.

SALEM Sept 29 1866.

House met as usual. Speaker CHENOWETH in the Chair. Quorum present. Prayer by Rev Mr Wythe of the M. E. Church. Journal of yesterday read and approved.

Mr WITHERS from the Select Committee to whom had been referred the bill for the relief of the counties composing the Fifth Judicial District reported, recommending its passage. He said he had not seen one of the members of the Committee this morning; that the member had said last night that he had not fully made up his mind but would try to get further information this morning. This recommendation however is from the majority of the committee.

Mr OLNEY desired that the bill be allowed to lie over till Monday.

Mr HUMASON moved that it be ordered engrossed and read a third time on Monday next.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr HELM. I arise for the purpose of making a personal explanation. In my remarks of yesterday on the bill for the relief of the counties composing the Fifth Judicial District I referred to the salary of the Governor of Oregon as having been increased to $3,000 per annum. Gov Gibbs informed me yesterday that I was mistaken as to the amount and that he had not received such. Therefore I stand corrected.

BILLS.

Mr NICKLIN'S bill for the improvement of the breed of sheep was read the first time and ordered printed.

Mr LOCKHART'S bill in relation to mining interests was also read and ordered printed.

Mr ROSS introduced a bill to amend the license laws which was read and ordered printed.

Mr LOCKHART'S bill for the relief of the Sheriff of Curry county was ordered printed.

Mr WELLES gave notice of a bill to amend an Act entitled an Act in relation to Assessors.

Mr HALL gave notice of a bill to amend the Act to regulate the powers and duties of County Surveyors.

Mr GEHR gave notice of a bill to repeal the Act requiring a test oath of litigants.

Mr STARKWEATHER gave notice of a bill to regulate the mode of proceeding in cases of contested elections.

Mr HUMASON gave notice of a bill to amend an act entitled an act for the support of the poor.

Mr GARLICK gave notice of a bill to amend section 28 and 30 of title 4 of chapter 43 of the general laws.

Mr WHITE offered a resolution to print one hundred copies of all bills introduced unless otherwise ordered by the House. Adopted.

Mr HUMASON offered a resolution requesting the Secretary of State and Secretary of the Treasury to submit their reports as required by law. He said one-half of the session is now gone and we have not received those reports which should have been ready at the beginning of the session. He had had frequent occasion to seek information which it was difficult to get without the reports and he thought the delay in presenting them inexcusable. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Mr WHITEAKER. There seems to be a dearth of business now on hand and I move to adjourn till half past eleven o'clock this morning. The motion was so amended as to substitute a recess for an adjournment, and then agreed to, at 10 45 A. M.

11 30 o'clock A. M. House called to order.

A communication from the Judges of the Supreme Court, stating that there is no secure place for keeping the records of the court and suggesting that the interests and rights of parties litigant in that court, as well as the general good might be promoted by procuring a fire-proof safe for the use of the Supreme Court. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The SPEAKER announced that as Mr Herman who had been appointed on the committee to investigate the condition of the Insane Asylum was sick, Mr Lockhart had been appointed in his stead.

THE AMENDMENT TO THE U. S. CONSTITUTION.

Messrs McCOY and KNISELY offered a protest against the passage of the resolution ratifying the amendment to the Constitution of the United States which received the sanction of this house on the 21st inst by a vote of 25 ayes to 22 nays. The protestants state that if they had been admitted to their seats in place of Messrs Brents and McKean they would have voted against the ratification of the amendment and thus defeated it. They claim that as Messrs Brents and McKean were unlawfully retained in their seats for the purpose of voting upon the amendment, that, therefore, the action of the Legislature was fraudulent and the amendment has not been lawfully ratified.

Mr HUMASON. I would be in favor of adopting that protest as the sense of this House, and I move that it be adopted.

Mr LAMSON moved a call of the House which was ordered and Messrs Avery, Cochran, Garlick, Gehr, Hendershott, Hall, Knisley, Lacey, Loring, Melvin, Parris, Roland, Rosenheim, Starkweather, White and Wetzel—16 were absent.

Mr HUMASON moved that a further call of the House be dispensed with.

Mr UPTON desired a full house. I also desire to raise a point of order that this question having been decided, and a motion to reconsider it having been indefinitely postponed it cannot be reconsidered during this session and this motion is therefore out of order, as is also the one in relation to the protest.

Mr McCOY stated that all he wished was to have the protest entered upon the journal.

The SPEAKER. I do not think this motion to declare the protest expressive of the sense of the House is in order at this time or that it would be under any circumstances.

Mr HUMASON thought that as the Speaker had entertained the motion for the call of the House he had recognized the correctness of the motion. He appealed from the decision of the Chair.

Mr UPTON thought the call of the House was merely an incidental question and if the main question was ruled out of order incidental questions would fall with it.

The SPEAKER so decided.

Mr HUMASON called for the reading of the protest, which was acceded to. He contended that the adoption of the protest by the House would not be reviewing or annulling the action of the House, but would be simply a declaratory action. It would set forth a fact which he thought was true and for which he was ready to vote. It sets forth the fact that there was fraud here and that that fraud ought to vitiate the action of the House. It is a rule of law that fraud vitiates everything. He desired the people of Oregon to understand by a vote of the Legislature that the ratification of the amendment was not binding in a moral aspect upon the people.

Mr LOCKHART. I shall vote to sustain the ruling of the chair. I think it altogether out of order to bring up this question.

Mr HUMASON moved that the matter be postponed until 11 o'clock A. M.

Mr OLNEY. I hope the matter will be disposed of now. I think the House is as well prepared to settle the question now as it will be at any time.

The SPEAKER stated that he would rule the whole matter out of order subject to the decision of the House.

Mr GARLICK called for the reading of the protest, which was done.

Mr OLNEY. I then address myself to the question of order. [Sergeant-at-arms—arrival of the Senate.]

The hour of 12 o'clock M. having arrived, the Senate met the House in

Mr DOLPH moved a call of the House, which was ordered.

During the call of the ayes and nays, which were demanded, Mr Garrett came in.

Mr HUMASON raised a point of order as to whether it was proper to order a call of the House in convention.

The call was ordered—41 ayes to 18 nays.

Mr CARTWRIGHT moved to dispense with the further call.

Mr HUSTON and others demanded the ayes and nays. The motion prevailed by 51 ayes to 8 nays.

The PRESIDENT announced that it was in order to vote for U. S. Senator, and directed the Clerk to call the roll.

Mr COX. I put in nomination Mr Joseph S. Smith.

Mr FORD. I withdraw the name of James K. Kelly.

The 14th ballot resulted as follows:

The PRESIDENT announced the result and directed the convention to proceed to another ballot.

Mr HELM moved to adjourn, which was lost by a strict party vote, 31 ayes to 38 nays.

15TH BALLOT.

The 15th ballot resulted as follows:

Mr Corbett received the same vote as on the 14th ballot, and also the vote of Mr Witzel.

Before the vote was announced Mr Miller changed his vote from Gibbs to Whiteaker and Mr Upton directed his vote to be recorded for Gibbs. Mr Witzel changed his vote from Corbett to Gibbs, making the vote for A. C. Gibbs the same as before—33.

The PRESIDENT announced the result.

Mr HELM moved to adjourn, which was refused by 38 nays to 31 ayes.

Mr JOHNSON said: Mr President—There are unpleasant duties to perform in life as well as those that are pleasant. From the action of my party friends I have now a very unpleasant duty to perform. The Union party—the Union members of the Legislature, a great majority of them—have presented to this Legislature and to the country a candidate for the office of United States Senator. From the time that his name was presented, and it was known that there was dissatisfaction with it on the part of a few who had it in their power to prevent his election—from the time that it appeared possible that there would be no success with his name as the standard bearer of the Union party—he has signified his willingness that as soon as it should be ascertained that another could carry the flag of the Union party on to victory his name should be withdrawn. It has been his constant desire, and while he evidently desired this honorable and high position that the Union party of this State should remain intact, and at no time has he wished to stand in the way of the success of the glorious principles which underlie our organization, with which we expect to fight the battles of our country. He is now sufficiently satisfied, Mr President, that the good of the Union party—I say it with the consent of his friends—that the good of the Union party and of the State demands that he shall waive his personal interests on this occasion. As he has been regarded by staunch Union men for years as their favorite candidate for the Senate at this time and as he received a fair and honorable nomination from the Union members of the Legislature, his friends were earnestly desirous that he should be elected, and they were particularly desirous that the stability and the honor of the Union organization should be maintained by his election. But feeling convinced that his defeat has been rendered certain by a few who should have been among his warmest supporters, and that it is with in our power to elect a man who will stand firmly by the great principles for which we have so faithfully contended we accept the situation. Then in his behalf and in behalf of the Union men of this Legislature and of the country I at this time withdraw the name of Governor Addison C. Gibbs as a candidate for the United States Senate and place in nomination as the standard bearer of the Union men of this Legislature, Henry W. Corbett. [Applause.]

Mr COX. I withdraw the name of Mr Whiteaker, and put in nomination Mr J. W. Nesmith.

The 16th ballot resulted as follows:

For H. W. Corbett—Messrs. Bayley, Brown, Cartwright, Cranston, Dolph, Donnell, Hinsdale, Johnson, Powell, Palmer, Pyle, Sterns, Watson, Cole, Davis, Day, Garlick, Garrett, Gingles, Herman, Hinman, Lamson, Laughlin, Lacey, Lockhart, Melvin, Nicklin, Olney, Parris, Roland, Rosenheim, Starkweather, Stouffer, Upton, White, Witzel, Mr President—38.

For J. W. Nesmith—Messrs. Dodge, Hendershott, Humason and Loring—4.

For P. P. Prim—Messrs Avery, Caldwell, Miller, Cox, Ford, Dempsey, Ross and Wells—.

For J. K. Kelly—Messrs. Huston, Helm, Hindman, Knisely and McCoy—5.

When Mr LYLE'S name was called he said: Mr President—Before casting my vote in this instance, I feel it my duty to say a word of explanation. I bow to the will of the majority of those with whom I am acting, but I must say in doing so I deprecate the action of those who have compelled the majority to yield submissively to the will of a factious and unscrupulous minority [applause], who have betrayed their friends, betrayed their party and betrayed those obligations which men owe to their fellow. [Renewed applause and raising of handkerchiefs from the ladies gallery.] But the opposition have relieved me to a great extent from the sore humiliation and pain which I feel by having placed in nomination J. W. Nesmith. It is not difficult for me to decide between that man who has been false not only to his party but also to some extent, to his country, and Henry W. Corbett whom I believe to be a gentleman in every respect and a loyal man sound upon those principles which are advocated by the party to which I belong and of which I claim to be an humble member. Therefore Mr President, I record my vote for H. W. Corbett. [Applause.]

Mr MELVIN when his name was called said: Mr President I wish to say a word as to my position. I feel it my duty to state to the convention my reasons for voting as I do. I have been told that if Mr Corbett is not elected to-day J. W. Nesmith will be. In choosing between these men I do not hesitate to name Mr Corbett. I believe his personal character is above reproach and I have confidence that he will stand firmly by his colleague in the U. S. Senate. I am not personally acquainted with Mr Corbett but I confide in the representations of those who are. We have been compelled to yield up our candidate by traitors in our own camp—not only traitors to their party but men who are even lower down in—

Mr WHITE. I call the gentleman to order. He is dealing in personalities.

Mr MELVIN. I will say no more. I cast my vote for Mr Corbett.

Mr DONNELL. Before this vote is announced I desire to say one word. I wish to set myself right before the people whom I represent, and before the people of Oregon. As is well known, Addison C. Gibbs, by the laws and usages of all parties since the first convention assembled in the United States, was justly and lawfully the choice of the Union party of this State for United States Senator at this time. I wish to say that in voting as I now do with the men who have defeated our regular nominee I want it distinctly understood that they and myself have no sympathies in common whatever. They have covered themselves all over with shame, infamy and disgrace, and they may make the most of their temporary triumph. [Applause.]

The PRESIDENT. Whole number of votes cast 69; necessary to a choice 35. Henry W. Corbett having received the requisite number of votes is declared duly elected United States Senator from the State of Oregon, for the term beginning the 4th day of March 1867. [Applause.]

On motion of Mr HUMASON the convention adjourned sine die.

The Senate returned, and on motion of Mr WITHERS at 1 o'clock P. M. the House adjourned till Wednesday, in order to give the committee to investigate the condition of the Insane Asylum time to perform their duty.

STATE ITEMS.

Initiatory steps have been taken by several enterprising young-men of Corvallis to organize a brass band. The Gazette urges the citizens of the town to furnish means to procure the instruments.

The San Francisco Flag says of the late inaugural address of Governor Woods, of our State: "It is a sound, patriotic document, brief, condensed and expressive. We predict a popular administration."

We have received a finely printed poster issued by the Linn county agricultural society, informing us that its first annual fair will be held at the Society's grounds near Albany on the 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th of the present month.

The Gazette says much improvement is now actively going forward in Corvallis and vicinity and carpenters are in great demand. The proprietor of the Gazette is building an office for his paper, and will have it completed in about ten days.

Five soldiers deserted from Camp Watson about a week ago. A detachment of troops reached the Dalles, two or three days since, in search of the runaways, but according to our information, did not succeed in finding them.

The Supreme Court adjourned on Friday, having cleared the docket. It held no session on Thursday, meeting and adjourning in respect to the memory of Amory Holbrook.

The Germans at Aurora are finishing a splendid church erected on an eminence west of the village. When completed it will be one of the most showy buildings in the State. We are not informed as to the cost of it.

Says the Eugene State Journal: There has been some excitement here during the week, caused by a reported discovery of gold on the head waters of Coast Fork. Specimens of quartz, rich in gold, and said to contain silver have been brought to town by parties who represent that it was found in that region. Investigation will soon determine the matter.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Our Olympia correspondent (Sept 25th) writes:

The Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. Masons of Washington Territory was in session last week and adjourned on Saturday, the time of the annual session having been changed from December to September, at the last session. The following is the list of officers for the following year: T. M. Reed, Grand Master, W. H. Troup, Deputy Grand Master; H. Burnett, Senior Grand Warden; C. J. Noyes, Junior Grand Warden, Jas. Biles, Grand Treasurer; W. H. Wood, Grand Secretary, P. E. Hyland, Grand Chaplain; J. T. Knox, Senior Grand Deacon; R. Willard, Junior Grand Deacon; G. O. Haller, Grand Marshal, F. Brown, Grand Bible Bearer, F. M. Sargeant, Grand Sword Bearer, R. R. Haines, Grand Stand and Bearer, L. D. Shelton and C. H. Jones, Grand Stewards, J. L. Myers, Grand Tyler.

The only active agricultural society in the Territory, the Farmer's Club, will hold a fair next Saturday, the 29th inst., at Franklin, Pierce county.

Rev A. C. McDougall, Methodist divine, temperance lecturer and organizing officer of the I. O. of Good Templars, has been in town a few days, lecturing, preaching and organizing a lodge of Good Templars. About twenty five persons have joined the movement. Like all new movements in a social community, it has "great expectations." It is to be hoped they will be realized. It is needed by just such persons as have joined it in the quiet and peaceable town of Olympia.

The Johnson Club of Olympia lately had a rebellion, and of course Copperjohnson politics have made considerable gossip for a week past. It seems the Club was originated by a small number of men, who have heretofore belonged to any or all parties, as profit or honor dictated, but who now call themselves Unionists and Conservatives. They selected all the offices to themselves, leaving "out in the cold" all the old fashioned Democratic Copperheads. A few nights ago, they held a love-feast and mutual-admiration meeting, at which they barred out the old liners. This so incensed the latter, that they have come out in open rebellion and circulated a petition, which was afterwards printed, with all the names attached, calling for a mass meeting of all the Copper Johnson's to meet in this place next Saturday, the 29th inst., to sustain President Johnson and his Administration. The petition has one hundred and fifteen names attached, one third of whom never saw it; ninety nine are Copperhead Democrats, then there are eight more Copperheads who must have signed their mark, as they cannot read or write, then four more Democrats, who are Democrats because their ancestors were; then three Federal officials, and one Union man. The original faction are "muchly" affected in consequence, as it upsets many of their fond dreams of office and spoils.

General Grant's Position.

In the dispatches to-day appears a letter from General Grant to one of the President's partisans, sharply rebuking him for his officiousness in pledging the General to the support of the President's policy. General Grant's position is at last very clearly defined. It has been apparent for a long time that he wished to have nothing to do, actively, with politics; and this letter now comes explaining his purpose more fully and emphatically than he had ever before declared it. The President has to meet the fall elections without the assistance which even a supposititious endorsement of his policy by General Grant would give him among the people.

This specific denial by the General will fall heavily on the President, since the strenuous and unscrupulous efforts of the latter to commit him to his cause. Every device which ingenuity could suggest, and every trick which sycophancy could stoop to, has been vainly employed by the President and his assistants during the last three months to place General Grant, even by implication, in the position of a supporter of "my policy." And now, after this excess of trouble and pains, the General writes a letter emphatically declaring that no one is authorized to use his name for such a purpose, and intimating very strongly that he does not support the political views of the President.

We say this is his intimation. Let the facts be stated, and see if they do not support this idea. Gen. Hillyer, the person to whom this letter is addressed, is a firm friend of the President's policy. Not long ago he applied for an appointment. That he might do something to merit the place he seeks, he is speaking for Johnson in New York. In one of these speeches, he took the liberty of pledging Gen. Grant "to a political party"—that is to say, to the party of Andrew Johnson. Grant immediately responded in the letter above alluded to. Now if Gen. Grant is so earnest a supporter of the President's policy as the friends of the latter claim, why should he hasten to publish this rebuke and denial? The inference is irresistible that while the General does not deem it proper for him to engage actively in politics, his sympathies are by no means with the President.

As Gen. Grant would not suffer a mere insinuation of this sort to go uncorrected, it does not appear that there is much reason to claim him as a friend of the policy of President Johnson.

Internal Improvements.

This State stands sadly in need of an organized system of internal improvements whereby its resources may be developed and the means of increasing its wealth, multiplied and made more effective and complete.

Private enterprise is inadequate to the accomplishment of what is needed and desired. At present no association of citizens could be formed with wealth enough to build the railroads we want, or to carry forward to successful completion other great enterprises which are essential to the growth and prosperity of the State.

Under our State Constitution, no debt can be created in the name of the State, which shall singly or in the aggregate with other liabilities, exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars, except in case of war. This provision is an obstacle lying immediately in the way of any attempt to organize a system of improvements to be fostered and controlled by the State. The State can undertake no work of the kind we have indicated, and individual or associated enterprise is unable to perform it. We therefore suggest to the Legislative Assembly the propriety of proposing to the people an amendment of the Constitution in this regard, so that a system of internal improvements can be begun by the State commensurate with our wants, and adapted to the requirements of our situation.

We understand very well that there are objections to be urged against loaning the credit of the State for this or any other purpose. But what are we to do? Without some plan or system of this kind, we shall be compelled to wait for an indefinite period for the completion of certain great enterprises necessary to our permanent prosperity as a State. Almost every State in the Union has a system of internal improvements under its own direction and control. The rapid growth of the great States of the West is largely owing to these causes. By means of the increase of wealth which would follow the building of railroads and the improvement of our water courses, the debt thus created could be cancelled in a reasonable time. If the State is ever to grow rich and powerful, we must look to the future to lend us aid. Those who are to live after us will enjoy these blessings; and we may therefore properly draw on them for assistance in establishing an order of things which will redound to their advantage fully as much as to our own.

Of course we should advocate caution and economy in these undertakings. And if the Constitution should be amended in this particular, there need be no danger of involving the State in inextricable debt for the purposes we have mentioned. If this danger should arise, the matter might and would be made an issue in the election of members of the Legislature. Thus the people would still have full control over the subject; and if they chose, might inaugurate a system of State improvements under which could be accomplished results that otherwise will be extremely slow of final attainment.

The Harp of a Thousand Strings.

> In parting with you, I leave the Constitution, the blood-cemented Constitution, and the glorious Union of these States in your hands, where I know they will be preserved and protected. It has been said recently with regard to me that it would not do to bring my head to the block, like James II, but that I must be got out of the way, because I am standing by the Constitution. Let me here say in parting, I love this country, I have toiled my whole life for it, and placed all at stake for it. If the worst must come and blood they want, take me if necessary to save my country, and pour my blood on the altar as a last libation.

Of course it is not necessary to give the name of the person who spoke the above, self-laudatory and disgusting words; we will simply state that they were uttered about four weeks ago in a speech delivered at Utica, New York. The first of this series of harangues was telegraphed us here. The rest were not sent, probably because the reporter grew tired of the everlasting repetition of "my" virtues and "my" sacrifices for "my" country. Can there be any wonder that this man, mouthing continually in this offensive strain, has driven all persons of sense and disinterested patriotism from his support, and that he now has no adherents except those who were lately in arms against their country, or who desire to use him for their own selfish purposes and ends?

Two Men Killed.—The Puget Sound Weekly of the 24th ult. learns that a difficulty occurred about a week or ten days previously on the Snohomish river between two white men and some Indians in which both of the former were killed. It is not known how the difficulty originated. The names of the unfortunate men were Harry Spittle and —— Dolan.

Virginia Reconstruction.—This is the way candidates for office in Richmond, Virginia, announce themselves: "Judge Crump, it is said, gave three thousand dollars to the Confederacy. Mr. Gilmer gave four years of his life and risked the whole. Who gave most? Let the soldiers answer at the polls." How do you admire this beautiful example of reconstruction?

We learn that the infantry company stationed at Fort Steilacoom is ordered to the Canyon City Road for the purpose of protecting it from marauding Indians. A company of the Second Artillery from California is to replace the former company at Fort Steilacoom.

Ratification Meeting.

The citizens of Portland met at Oro Fino Hall last night—a large assembly—to pay respect to and to congratulate our fellow-citizen, H. W. Corbett, upon his election to the U. S. Senate. Upon the entrance of Mr. Corbett into the hall, there was a spontaneous outburst of applause.

At eight o'clock, Mr. White named Judge Shattuck to preside and he was elected unanimously. Upon taking the chair, Judge Shattuck said:

"Fellow-citizens, we have assembled to-night to congratulate one of our fellow-citizens upon his election to the United States Senate. You have selected me to preside and though that honor was unexpected, I will perform the duties you have assigned me, without further remark. Members of the Legislature present, are invited to seats upon the stand."

Quite a number of the members took seats upon the stand amid the greetings of the audience.

The President introduced Mr. Corbett who was received with enthusiastic and continued applause. He said:

Fellow Citizens: I come before you to acknowledge my gratitude for this kind demonstration, and to explain to you how fully I sympathize with you in all that pertains to our prosperity as a nation and as a State. Little did I think, sixteen years ago when I came here to identify my interests with yours, in this young, thriving and prosperous State, that I should ever be one of your Representatives in the councils of the nation. I sincerely thank you, the Union citizens, for the confidence reposed in me. Most of you know I used all my influence in the formation of the Union party of Oregon, which I trusted would, and it did carry us through the storm and dark days of the rebellion, while the very sun itself was obscured by the smoke from the battle-field, where our noble Union soldiers were contending for the perpetuity of the Republic, that our fathers had so nobly won, established and bequeathed to us. Would we not be unworthy to be called her sons, did we fail in our duty to the men that fought in the tented field and endured all the privations of a terrible war? Shall we not demand some security for the future?

Long did we wait, anxiously did we look and wish for a plan that should meet with our approval, for the restoration of those States with all their political rights, with safety to the Government, justice to them, and that should promise future prosperity to those fertile fields that have been laid waste by tyranny, anarchy and the desolating hand of war! In the Constitutional Amendment submitted to the States by the present Congress, I see embodied all those guarantees and adjustments that will give security and perpetuity to the Union, and equal justice to all. [Long continued applause.] To that amendment I have given my hearty and unqualified support. [Applause.] I feel that great and fearful responsibility rests upon the man who is to sit in the councils of the nation for the next six years, during which time we hope once more for a true and permanent Union, the stability of the Government, and under it, prosperity at home, and wholesome respect abroad. [Applause.] It is unnecessary at this time to explain more fully my position, where I am so well known as at my own home, where I have always contended for the Union, the whole Union and nothing less. [Loud and long applause.] For in it, and under the graceful folds of our flag, we are safe. Something is due to the good and brave men that fought our battles during that unholy rebellion, and I should prove recreant to the trust imposed in me, and all my past life, did I not ask some security for the future, some atonement for the desolate hearths made vacant by this unjust and unwarranted rebellion. Whatever I may do, my fellow-citizens, in this matter, rest assured there is an honest purpose to accomplish the best results and to secure us against any similar calamity. [Applause.] We are now fast resuming the garb of peace.—The soldier is now eagerly watching with anxious eye, each cloud that rises in the distant South, to know if it betokens good or evil. Now and hereafter every Representative will be held to strict account for the manner in which he discharges the important trust committed to his care. I claim there is something due to the majesty of the Government, something due to the well being and good order of society, something to deter people from the attempt to destroy one of the best Governments under the sun, without a just cause. What shall be that pledge? What shall be that guarantee? Nothing less than the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment will satisfy our nation. [Applause.] Whether the people will require more than this from the Southern States it is for them, the people who quelled the rebellion, to say on what terms they shall be restored to all the rights and privileges of those who have been true to the Union in her darkest days.

To the members of the Legislature, many of whom I see here present, I return my sincere thanks for giving me such unanimous support without solicitation on my part. Under these circumstances, I regard it as the highest honor. I trust my course will be such as to give them renewed confidence in me.

As a guarantee of my future course, I shall only refer you to my past record. I intend it shall be equally consistent. In attending to business for individuals of the State I shall know no party. [Applause.] I feel a deep interest in our State and promise to do all in my power to develop its resources and to advance its interests in every consistent and legitimate way. Whether, in this respect, I shall be able to fill the seat of the present occupant, there may be some reasonable doubt. If an earnest will and a willing hand will accomplish it, you have my best efforts.

As Mr. Corbett retired from the stand, three hearty, rousing cheers arose from the audience. It was manifest that his election, his open, earnest declaration of positive identity with the only party which is true to the Union, had touched the right chord in Portland. His reception was every way a very flattering one.

Messrs Mitchell and Logan followed in their usual successful veins, endorsing the action of the Legislature and making some very happy allusions to past history, both public and private. They were both of them frequently and uproariously applauded, as they both deserved to be.

They were followed by Messrs. Applegate, Sterns, White, Johnson and others; but our want of room compels us to omit further notice of the speeches. The occasion was marked by good feeling and satisfaction at the result of the contest so long and earnestly fought against the combined wiles of the Copperheads and Copper-johnsons at Salem.

Coughs and Colds.—Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., should try "Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple remedy, which is in almost every case effectual. The Troches have been tested by time, and pronounced universally superior to all other articles for the same purpose.

THE ART AMONG THE ANCIENTS.—Recent researches among the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum have led some writers to think that the inhabitants of those ruined cities knew something of PHOTOGRAPHY. Whether this is so or not the most brilliant results are being brought out of the art at the present day. At the GALLERY of ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 First street, may be seen some exquisite gems in the PICTURE line that are unapproachable as works of art. We would advise those who wish to adorn their parlors and albums in a tasteful manner, to give these gentlemen a call.

THE CONTEST FOR U. S. SENATOR at Salem does not in the least interfere with the rapid sale of those FINE BEAVER and all other kinds of FINE BUSINESS AND BLACK SUITS at such low figures by KOHN & FISHEL, at the ST. LOUIS STORE, NO. 111 FRONT STREET. They are CONSTANTLY RECEIVING GOODS from their House in New York, and are thus enabled to keep on hand the LATEST STYLES and at PRICES THAT DEFY COMPETITION.

General Grant's Position.

In the dispatches to-day appears a letter from General Grant to one of the President's partisans, sharply rebuking him for his officiousness in pledging the General to the support of the President's policy. General Grant's position is at last very clearly defined. It has been apparent for a long time that he wished to have nothing to do, actively, with politics; and this letter now comes explaining his purpose more fully and emphatically than he had ever before declared it. The President has to meet the fall elections without the assistance which even a supposititious endorsement of his policy by General Grant would give him among the people.

This specific denial by the General will fall heavily on the President, since the strenuous and unscrupulous efforts of the latter to commit him to his cause. Every device which ingenuity could suggest, and every trick which sycophancy could stoop to, has been vainly employed by the President and his assistants during the last three months to place General Grant, even by implication, in the position of a supporter of "my policy." And now, after this excess of trouble and pains, the General writes a letter emphatically declaring that no one is authorized to use his name for such a purpose, and intimating very strongly that he does not support the political views of the President.

We say this is his intimation. Let the facts be stated, and see if they do not support this idea. Gen. Hillyer, the person to whom this letter is addressed, is a firm friend of the President's policy. Not long ago he applied for an appointment. That he might do something to merit the place he seeks, he is speaking for Johnson in New York. In one of these speeches, he took the liberty of pledging Gen. Grant "to a political party"—that is to say, to the party of Andrew Johnson. Grant immediately responded in the letter above alluded to. Now if Gen. Grant is so earnest a supporter of the President's policy as the friends of the latter claim, why should he hasten to publish this rebuke and denial? The inference is irresistible that while the General does not deem it proper for him to engage actively in politics, his sympathies are by no means with the President.

As Gen. Grant would not suffer a mere insinuation of this sort to go uncorrected, it does not appear that there is much reason to claim him as a friend of the policy of President Johnson.

Internal Improvements.

This State stands sadly in need of an organized system of internal improvements whereby its resources may be developed and the means of increasing its wealth, multiplied and made more effective and complete.

Private enterprise is inadequate to the accomplishment of what is needed and desired. At present no association of citizens could be formed with wealth enough to build the railroads we want, or to carry forward to successful completion other great enterprises which are essential to the growth and prosperity of the State

Under our State Constitution, no debt can be created in the name of the State, which shall singly or in the aggregate with other liabilities, exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars, except in case of war. This provision is an obstacle lying immediately in the way of any attempt to organize a system of improvements to be fostered and controlled by the State. The State can undertake no work of the kind we have indicated, and individual or associated enterprise is unable to perform it. We therefore suggest to the Legislative Assembly the propriety of proposing to the people an amendment of the Constitution in this regard, so that a system of internal improvements can be begun by the State commensurate with our wants, and adapted to the requirements of our situation.

We understand very well that there are objections to be urged against loaning the credit of the State for this or any other purpose. But what are we to do? Without some plan or system of this kind, we shall be compelled to wait for an indefinite period for the completion of certain great enterprises necessary to our permanent prosperity as a State. Almost every State in the Union has a system of internal improvements under its own direction and control. The rapid growth of the great States of the West is largely owing to these causes. By means of the increase of wealth which would follow the building of railroads and the improvement of our water courses, the debt thus created could be cancelled in a reasonable time. If the State is ever to grow rich and powerful, we must look to the future to lend us aid. Those who are to live after us will enjoy these blessings; and we may therefore properly draw on them for assistance in establishing an order of things which will redound to their advantage fully as much as to our own.

Of course we should advocate caution and economy in these undertakings. And if the Constitution should be amended in this particular, there need be no danger of involving the State in inextricable debt for the purposes we have mentioned. If this danger should arise, the matter might and would be made an issue in the election of members of the Legislature. Thus the people would still have full control over the subject; and if they chose, might inaugurate a system of State improvements under which could be accomplished results that otherwise will be extremely slow of final attainment.

The Harp of a Thousand Strings.

In parting with you, I leave the Constitution, the blood-cemented Constitution, and the glorious Union of these States in your hands, where I know they will be preserved and protected. It has been said recently with regard to me that it would not do to bring my head to the block, like James II, but that I must be got out of the way, because I am standing by the Constitution. Let me here say in parting, I love this country. I have toiled my whole life for it, and placed all at stake for it. If the worst must come and blood they want, take me if necessary to save my country, and pour my blood on the altar as a last libation.

Of course it is not necessary to give the name of the person who spoke the above self-laudatory and disgusting words; we will simply state that they were uttered about four weeks ago in a speech delivered at Utica, New York. The first of this series of harangues was telegraphed us here. The rest were not sent, probably because the reporter grew tired of the everlasting repetition of "my" virtues and "my" sacrifices for "my" country. Can there be any wonder that this man, mouthing continually in this offensive strain, has driven all persons of sense and disinterested patriotism from his support, and that he now has no adherents except those who were lately in arms against their country, or who desire to use him for their own selfish purposes and ends?

Two Men Killed.—The Puget Sound Weekly of the 24th ult. learns that a difficulty occurred about a week or ten days previously on the Snohomish river between two white men and some Indians in which both of the former were killed. It is not known how the difficulty originated. The names of the unfortunate men were Harry Spittle and —— Dolan.

Virginia Reconstruction.—This is the way candidates for office in Richmond, Virginia, announce themselves: "Judge Crump, it is said, gave three thousand dollars to the Confederacy. Mr. Gilmer gave four years of his life and risked the whole. Who gave most? Let the soldiers answer at the polls." How do you admire this beautiful example of reconstruction?

We learn that the infantry company stationed at Fort Steilacoom is ordered to the Canyon City Road for the purpose of protecting it from marauding Indians. A company of the Second Artillery from California is to replace the former company at Fort Steilacoom.

Ratification Meeting.

The citizens of Portland met at Oro Fino Hall last night—a large assembly—to pay respect to and to congratulate our fellow-citizen, H. W. Corbett, upon his election to the U. S. Senate. Upon the entrance of Mr. Corbett into the hall, there was a spontaneous outburst of applause.

At eight o'clock, Mr. White named Judge Shattuck to preside and he was elected unanimously. Upon taking the chair, Judge Shattuck said:

"Fellow-citizens, we have assembled to-night to congratulate one of our fellow-citizens upon his election to the United States Senate. You have selected me to preside and though that honor was unexpected, I will perform the duties you have assigned me, without farther remark. Members of the Legislature present, are invited to seats upon the stand."

Quite a number of the members took seats upon the stand amid the greetings of the audience.

The President introduced Mr. Corbett who was received with enthusiastic and continued applause. He said:

Fellow Citizens: I come before you to acknowledge my gratitude for this kind demonstration, and to explain to you how fully I sympathize with you in all that pertains to our prosperity as a nation and as a State. Little did I think, sixteen years ago when I came here to identify my interests with yours, in this young, thriving and prosperous State, that I should ever be one of your Representatives in the councils of the nation. I sincerely thank you, the Union citizens, for the confidence reposed in me. Most of you know I used all my influence in the formation of the Union party of Oregon, which I trusted would, and it did carry us through the storm and dark days of the rebellion, while the very sun itself was obscured by the smoke from the battle-field, where our noble Union soldiers were contending for the perpetuity of the Republic, that our fathers had so nobly won, established and bequeathed to us. Would we not be unworthy to be called her sons, did we fail in our duty to the men that fought in the tented field and endured all the privations of a terrible war? Shall we not demand some security for the future?

Long did we wait, anxiously did we look and wish for a plan that should meet with our approval, for the restoration of those States with all their political rights, with safety to the Government, justice to them, and that should promise future prosperity to those fertile fields that have been laid waste by tyranny, anarchy and the desolating hand of war. In the Constitutional Amendment submitted to the States by the present Congress, I see embodied all those guarantees and adjustments that will give security and perpetuity to the Union, and equal justice to all. [Long continued applause.] To that amendment I have given my hearty and unqualified support. [Applause.] I feel that great and fearful responsibility rests upon the man who is to sit in the councils of the nation for the next six years, during which time we hope once more for a true and permanent Union, the stability of the Government, and under it, prosperity at home, and wholesome respect abroad. [Applause.] It is unnecessary at this time to explain more fully my position, where I am so well known as at my own home, where I have always contended for the Union, the whole Union and nothing less. [Loud and long applause.] For in it, and under the graceful folds of our flag, we are safe. Something is due to the good and brave men that fought our battles during that unholy rebellion, and I should prove recreant to the trust imposed in me, and all my past life, did I not ask some security for the future, some atonement for the desolate hearths made vacant by this unjust and unwarranted rebellion. Whatever I may do, my fellow-citizens, in this matter, rest assured there is an honest purpose to accomplish the best results and to secure us against any similar calamity. [Applause.] We are now fast resuming the garb of peace. The soldier is now eagerly watching with anxious eye, each cloud that rises in the distant South, to know if it betokens good or evil. Now and hereafter every Representative will be held to strict account for the manner in which he discharges the important trust committed to his care. I claim there is something due to the majesty of the Government, something due to the well being and good order of society, something to deter people from the attempt to destroy one of the best Governments under the sun, without a just cause. What shall be that pledge? What shall be that guarantee? Nothing less than the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment will satisfy our nation. [Applause.] Whether the people will require more than this from the Southern States it is for them, the people who quelled the rebellion, to say on what terms they shall be restored to all the rights and privileges of those who have been true to the Union in her darkest days.

To the members of the Legislature, many of whom I see here present, I return my sincere thanks for giving me such unanimous support without solicitation on my part. Under these circumstances, I regard it as the highest honor. I trust my course will be such as to give them renewed confidence in me.

As a guarantee of my future course, I shall only refer you to my past record. I intend it shall be equally consistent. In attending to business for individuals of the State I shall know no party. [Applause.] I feel a deep interest in our State and promise to do all in my power to develop its resources and to advance its interests in every consistent and legitimate way. Whether, in this respect, I shall be able to fill the seat of the present occupant, there may be some reasonable doubt. If an earnest will and a willing hand will accomplish it, you have my best efforts.

As Mr. Corbett retired from the stand, three hearty, rousing cheers arose from the audience. It was manifest that his election, his open, earnest declaration of positive identity with the only party which is true to the Union, had touched the right chord in Portland. His reception was every way a very flattering one.

Messrs. Mitchell and Logan followed in their usual successful veins, endorsing the action of the Legislature and making some very happy allusions to past history, both public and private. They were both of them frequently and uproariously applauded, as they both deserved to be.

They were followed by Messrs. Applegate, Sterns, White, Johnson and others; but our want of room compels us to omit further notice of the speeches. The occasion was marked by good feeling and satisfaction at the result of the contest so long and earnestly fought against the combined wiles of the Copperheads and Copper-johnsons at Salem.

Coughs and Colds.—Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., should try "Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple remedy, which is in almost every case effectual. The Troches have been tested by time, and pronounced universally superior to all other articles for the same purpose.

THE ART AMONG THE ANCIENTS.—Recent researches among the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum have led some writers to think that the inhabitants of those ruined cities knew something of PHOTOGRAPHY. Whether this is so or not the most brilliant results are being brought out of the art at the present day. At the GALLERY of ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 82 First street, may be seen some exquisite gems in the PICTURE line that are unapproachable as works of art. We would advise those who wish to adorn their parlors and albums in a tasteful manner, to give these gentlemen a call.

THE CONTEST FOR U. S. SENATOR at Salem does not in the least interfere with the rapid sale of those FINE BEAVER and all other kinds of FINE BUSINESS AND BLACK SUITS at such low figures by KOHN & FISHEL, at the ST. LOUIS STORE, NO. 111 FRONT STREET. They are CONSTANTLY RECEIVING GOODS from their House in New York, and are thus enabled to keep on hand the LATEST STYLES and at PRICES THAT DEFY COMPETITION.

A DINNER.—At 3 o'clock yesterday thirty-four invited guests met at the Western Hotel to partake of a dinner given by Hon. H. W. Corbett, in honor of his election to the United States Senate. It was a very recherche affair. The popular host, L. P. W. Quimby, Esq., had done his best, and his best did well. The table was spread with all the delicacies of the season as well as the substantials. The party were in the best of spirits, and as the play strengthened to hilarity, many a joke went round, and new congratulations were exchanged as they contemplated the glorious victories of the present session, won by the firm friends of freedom and Union. Good reason had they to rejoice; as their enemy had been wily and scheming, and his deep laid plans had been boldly met and successfully frustrated. Speeches were made by Senator Corbett, ex-Gov. Gibbs, Messrs. Sterns, Loryea, and others, and the following toasts were drank. The first was offered

By Dr. Loryea—Hon. H. W. Corbett, our newly-elected Senator; May he ever enjoy the confidence of his constituents.

By Senator Corbett—Hon. A. C. Gibbs; late Governor of Oregon, an able and efficient administrator of the affairs of State for the past four years.

By Senator Corbett—Hon. J. H. Mitchell; our young and rising statesman.

By Hon. J. L. O. Nicklin—Hon. Jesse Applegate: he laid the rock upon which Oregon is built.

By Col. Ross—Hon. H. W. Corbett, our newly elected Senator; may he perform the duties of his high office with credit to himself and the State of Oregon.

By W. A. McPherson—The Legislature of Oregon; may wisdom and prudence guide them in all their acts.

By W. D. Jeffries—Dr. Loryea; The able and humane superintendent of the Insane Asylum.

By Senator Corbett—The absent friends of Hon. A. C. Gibbs: who labored so faithfully for his election.

By Dr. Watkins. The future candidate for the U. S. Senate; May he never be the caucus nominee.

By W. A. McPherson—The Hon. George H. Williams: an able and patriotic colleague of our newly elected Senator.

By Hon. H. W. Corbett—The Union party: May it be [illegible]

The party then dispersed in excellent spirits and highly gratified by the pleasure of this happy occasion.

THE NEW [illegible].—Through the kindness of W. S. Ladd, Esq., we are informed that the steamship Oregonian sailed from New York for Portland via San Francisco, on the [illegible] of [illegible] last. The Oregonian was built by [illegible] Lawrence & Foulkes of Williamsburg for Messrs. [illegible] Bradford & Co. of this city. The Oregonian has stowage for [illegible] tons of coal besides her stores, &c. The length of the vessel is 270 feet, 43 feet beam, and 21 feet depth of hold. Her tonnage is 2400 tons, with a carrying capacity of 1600 tons. Her steerage berths will be [illegible], and her cabin will accommodate 200. The vessel is fitted up with well appointed staterooms, and is [illegible] by [illegible]. All the most modern appliances [illegible] have been used. The vessel is first [illegible] used in her construction were of the [illegible]. Her hull is divided into water tight compartments. Her [illegible] was constructed at the Allair Works in New York City; they are first class and contain all the [illegible] improvements. The vessel when loaded with her [illegible] of passengers, coal, water and provisions for a seven days' trip, and 1000 tons of freight, will draw but 11 feet and 11 inches of water. The steamer [illegible], the sister ship of the Montana of the Anchor Line, [illegible] at Bath, Me., on the 11th of August last. [illegible] will probably soon be upon the trade here, as the [illegible] are daily looking for advices of her.

POLICE COURT.—Before His Honor Judge Hoffman yesterday we notice the usual number of lights. Lightning whisky in this city is very uniform in its effects. It invariably causes the patient to patiently search for a soft plank in the [illegible] on which to rest his wearied limbs. The cases of Monday morning were Robert Cornell, arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was fined [illegible] and [illegible] walk on First street between [illegible] sent to jail for two days.....Chas. Schmidt [illegible] for keeping a tippling house open on Sunday, has not yet had his trial; he will probably be [illegible]. Charles Lawrence was arrested upon the charge of assault and battery upon Williamson. Charles [illegible] charged with assault, and battery upon [illegible] while under arrest—found guilty and fined [illegible] in each suit. Wm. O'Hara and Alex. Campbell were arrested upon a charge of assault and battery upon Geo. Canavan. O'Hara was tried and [illegible]. Trial of Alex. Campbell to-day.

[illegible].—The steamer J. H. Couch, on her [illegible] brought the press, type and fixtures for the new paper at Oregon City. Our [illegible] do not design to remain longer without telling the believers of the State her [illegible] all subjects, and of pressing her [illegible]. The new paper will be termed [illegible]. The paper will be started under the [illegible] Mr. D. C. Ireland has a host of [illegible] no doubt receive the support he so well deserves. We wish long life and prosperity to The Oregon [illegible], good health to Mr. Ireland, and a [illegible] of the latent wealth and power of [illegible] Lowell.

[illegible].—We see upon the street [illegible], who offer for sale some beautiful articles of [illegible] work. They are made by themselves, and [illegible] worked in bugle beads and colors. [illegible] mostly pin-cushions and portmonnaies [illegible] and artistic taste [illegible] to be appreciated, and we hope that they will meet with a ready sale [illegible].

[illegible].—The catalogue sale yesterday at Harker's [illegible] discontinued at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of [illegible] the goods [illegible] during the forenoon. The sale was well attended, and people seem to appreciate the [illegible] is the place, and that now is the time to [illegible] bargains. The sale will be resumed at 11 [illegible] day, and greater bargains offered. At 10 [illegible] will sell at his auction rooms.

[illegible].—A large crowd gathered at Oro Fino [illegible] in ratification of the election of Hon. [illegible] to the United States Senate. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. H. W. Corbett, J. H. [illegible], David Logan, Sterns, White, Johnson and [illegible]. Great enthusiasm prevailed. The crowd dispersed at 10 o'clock.

[illegible].—One of the men engaged in unloading the steamer [illegible] was severely hurt by having his hand caught in the tackle as it ran through a block. The [illegible] joint was torn from the fore finger, and the third finger was also injured. The wound is severe and painful. The [illegible] was somewhat sprained by the [illegible].

[illegible].—Mr. Fargo, yesterday, in gathering some [illegible], found upon the tree two bunches of blossoms and one bunch of fruit just formed. This is [illegible] climes, where ripe fruit, green fruit and [illegible] are found clustering together all the year round.

[illegible].—The P. T. Co.'s steamer Senator brought down last [illegible] the following freight: 13 boxes eggs, [illegible], 32 half barrels of butter, 8 bales woolen goods, 1 [illegible] blankets, 5 cases merchandise, 2 boxes [illegible], and 4 barrels butter.

[illegible].—Van Fridagh & Co., No. 107 Front street advertise a splendid assortment of Millinery, Dry and Fancy Goods, and Bonnets of the latest Parisian style, direct from France. The ladies should bear this in mind and call early as this is a rare opportunity.

[illegible].—Last night the Turners of this city [illegible] of their celebrated balls at their Hall on First street; about fifty couples being on the floor. All [illegible] pleasant time.

THEATRE CONCERT HALL.—It is long since the boards of this establishment has been favored with an array of talent as is embodied in the company of the Apollo [illegible]. Lafont's whistling performance [illegible], and the entire entertainment is calculated to [illegible] the audience mightily, particularly when it is taken into consideration that the Minstrels remain with us only a night or two longer. There can be no doubt that the [illegible] and vulgarity indulged in by the Melodeon [illegible], who disgraced themselves and the place [illegible] of their unmeaning witticisms, in July and August, under the same roof, have materially interfered with the success of the present troupe, but the opposite effect ought to be the result, since it is universally acknowledged that a more chaste and pure performance, though full of fun, gayety and laughter throughout, has never been placed before a Portland audience. Ladies and families should particularly urge upon their friends the support and patronage of such a Company, to show their appreciation of such an entertainment which the most timid and fastidious could witness with pleasure and satisfaction, and the more juvenile members of the community will delighted gratification.

VERY FINE THE DIAMOND!—Use Sozodont daily, and your teeth will seldom or never need scraping or filling, for they will never be defiled by unwholesome concretions, [illegible] honey combed by decay.

The Graefenberg Company's Uterine CATHOLICON does not contain one particle of calomel [illegible], and cases of Female Complaints which require [illegible] treatment than the Catholicon are extremely [illegible]. It should be used in all cases of Deranged Monthly Periods, Weakness, Irregular Appetite, Nervousness, Headache, Disturbed Sleep, Acid Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion and Pains and Difficulties connected with the Uterine Organs.

THE UTERINE CATHOLICON is a most [illegible] remedy for Gravel and all affections of the Kidneys, and Bladder, while in the troublesome symptoms attending Pregnancy, the benefits of the Catholicon are most remarkable. It is a perfect restorer of functional and general health from budding womanhood to the turn of life, and those patients who have used the GRAEFENBERG COMPANY'S UTERINE CATHOLICON [illegible] increasing their thankfulness for [illegible] effect of this wonderful medicine.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining regions. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhea, Dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere. sep20 HODGE & CALEF, 97 Front St.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

OUR SALEM LETTER

SALEM, Sept [illegible]0 1866

EDITOR OREGONIAN

The members of the Senate, the House, the lobby and the various sorts of hangers-on to each are mostly absent from town to-day and we are once again enjoying a quiet Sabbath undisturbed by caucuses or [illegible] "get em." Many of the members have gone to pay your city a visit others have gone to their homes while nearly all the rest have gone on short trips into the country—so that really the town looks quite deserted. There is one relief afforded by this state of affairs: one sees no more of the little groups of men on the sidewalk around the corners down the alleys in back yards here there and everywhere with countenances full of anxiety trembling hope suspicion astonishment, sinister hate treachery and great ... and so on through the long list of human passions. Thank Heaven that is over with and everybody breathes freer if every body is not the happier for it. The managers patriots politicians tricksters diddlers and dabblers can now go home or proceed with legitimate legislation accordingly as they are members of the "Third House," or of the first and second.

The election of Mr Corbett, though till within a few days unexpected, gives very general satisfaction to Union men. The impression seems quite general that we have secured a good pure man, though nobody claims for him any extraordinary ability except, perhaps, as a business man. His political integrity is not doubted though the Copperheads have taken a great deal of pains to create the impression that up to the time of becoming a candidate he was an administration man and a friend to Mr Nesmith's re-election. This is all mere clap trap and a means adopted for the purpose of letting themselves down easy. His friends who have known him intimately for years speak confidently of his political status as being unequivocally with Congress and the "Radicals." He did not receive the vote of a single man—unless it may have been Mr Lockhart and Mr Bayley—who are not decided supporters of the Congressional plan of reconstruction, and I understand Mr Lockhart to be far from being a supporter of Johnson's policy. It is of no consequence to anybody what Bayley may be for he is as destitute of influence in the Union party to day as Jo Wilson or Bill Barnhart, and that is putting it a great ways below par. Always a man to be little trusted as a politician, his course thus far in this session has been such as to destroy the last vestige of confidence or respect which anybody may have felt in or toward him.

This brings me to speak of two or three other actors in a very reprehensible piece of business—I mean the bolters from the Union caucus. Lockhart having remained out of the caucus, may be dismissed with the remark that his share in the disorganizing work of the last two weeks is not blackened as are the others with the stain of treachery to direct or tacit pledges and that he can settle his scores more directly with the Union men of his district. Of the others it ought to be said and remembered that, though their conduct resulted in the choice of an unexceptionable man the course they took if repeated would be fraught with danger and disaster to the Union party. The Union members of the Legislature are, for the time, the representatives of the Union party in all partisan matters, and whatever they do is the authoritative voice of the party, as much as the decision of a State convention. These representatives of the Union party went into a caucus—the bolting members along with the rest—and made their selection of a candidate for Senator. Every man who went into that caucus knew the purpose of it and knew that the usages of all parties bound them to respect its decision. They were as much bound in honor as though they had signed a written contract. Their subsequent refusal to stand by its action was demoralizing to the party organization, calculated to destroy the idea of representative responsibility and that faith which man must necessarily repose in man in all associations whether social or political where success can only be secured through unity of action, and unity can only take place through adherence to the republican idea that majorities shall rule. When men are acting in a representative character, they are false to the character, if they do not rise above mere personal considerations cease for the time to be mere individuals, and become the embodiment of the masses they represent. What right had those men to place their five voices against the thirty three men who represented over five sixths of the Union party of Oregon? What right has any petty minority to dictate to a large majority? The act once admitted to be one which does not affect the standing of such minority in the party, and there is an end to unity or harmony of action, because the majority however large, has no power to enforce its will. If it be once admitted that one or a dozen, being a minority having gone into a convention, may come out of it and refuse to sustain its decisions, the idea of associated effort is destroyed, the confidence in each other which is necessary to associated effort, is gone instantly, and henceforth there is nothing for it but for each man to go his own way, however divergent it may be from all others or however illy calculated to attain the objects which all may desire to accomplish.

In the case at hand, there being a factious, wilful and faithless minority, who had the adventitious power to control the result, it was wise for the majority to bend because, otherwise, no good result could possibly have been accomplished. It was magnanimous in the majority, beyond all precedent in my personal observation. Unlike the stubborn minority, it rose above individual preferences and pride of opinion. For the general good the majority laid aside its majesty and bowed to the subject. The result is one in which we all may rejoice so far as the result itself is concerned, but that does not justify the action of the minority. That the majority kept its faith with the minority after having pledged it on Saturday morning in exactly the same manner as had the minority theirs on the evening of the 17th, and that, hence, a result was reached at which all good Union men are gratified, does not excuse the bolting members for a single factious, disobedient or disorganizing act. It was not their act that a true Union man was finally elected, it was the act of the majority who stood true to the first pledge, and then again true to the second. A few more such examples of bad faith as Rosenheim, White, Stouffer and Bayley exhibited toward the Union caucus, unless sternly frowned down, would render the Union organization as powerless as a rope of sand. It would not, in a short time if the example be followed, amount to a respectable opposition minority.

In connection with this matter I wish to put the public in possession of the secret history of another transaction in which this same faction used its power and how it got its power. Previous to the ousting of the Grant county Union members the House had five Union majority and there was a joint majority of eleven. To obtain the balance of power it was necessary to hold six Union members, while there were only five bolters. I am told, and have every reason for believing that the bolters in the House entered into a well understood and explicit bargain with the Copperheads, that they would assist in ousting Brents and McKean without the privilege of sending for testimony, they would place in the vacant seats McCoy and Knisely, they would retain Lamson and Laughlin in their seats and would postpone the Polk county contest till after the Senatorial election. This arrangement would reduce the Union majority in the House to one. Then by voting one way or the other as circumstances might dictate, the four men in the House could turn events as they pleased and with Bayley of the Senate, could hold the Joint Assembly. This was exactly what they played for and having accomplished it they could absolutely dictate to either side of the House an acquiescence in their demands. When the Senate after having voted for U S Senator on the 18th had resolved to invite the members of the House into joint convention on the following day the bolters told them emphatically if the Senate did it they would not only vote against and defeat the Constitutional Amendment but they would come with the Copperheads into joint convention and elect a Copperhead Senator. This threat I am told by as truthful men as live, was the occasion of the Senate's postponement of action till the 25th. They desired to save the Constitutional amendment and though the latter part of the threat was believed to be idle the bolters had the power to defeat the amendment. Before the vote was taken in the House for U S Senator they had the power to elect or defeat a Union man. They used it to defeat Gibbs—a thing they had preconcerted to do, before the Union caucus of the 17th. I could give you the names of six or eight Union men who encouraged the bolters to stand out firmly though they were sharp enough to cast their own votes for the nominee. One of them showed his hand on the fifteenth and last ballot but one. Everybody saw it at the time and I need not mention his name.

The best of evidence exists to exonerate both Mr Mitchell and Mr Corbett from complicity with the fraud and treachery which defeated Governor Gibbs. Mr Mitchell was present through the whole contest and labored, as I believe honestly, to secure the election of the caucus nominee.

Among the most amusing things in connection with this election were the by plays of the Nesmith Simpson men. With only a capital of five or six votes at the outset with any amount of brass including Gen Ingalls' buttons they put on more airs threatened more swaggered more and made asses of themselves oftener and at cheaper prices than was ever seen heard or experienced in this State. None of them [illegible] worthy of special mention except perhaps Gen Ingalls and he only because of his swelling pretensions. With just about brains enough to run a peanut stand you would have thought to see his airs that he considered himself the man who was running the whole machine. It was most ludicrous to see him button hole a member and tell him in his inimitably pompous manner that "Mistah Nesmith sah is very popu lah sah with the ahmy and navy sah—h[illegible] very useful man sah in the Senate—ahmy and navy sah very glad to see him re-elected sah—very popu lah in the ahmy and navy sah." It was a little ludicrous too to see Bill Barnhart's efforts to trim ship between Nesmith and [illegible] as he thought the one went up or down and the other vice versa. When the [illegible] of Mr Corbett took place at last Bill was the first man to reach the telegraph office and many people were malicious enough to insinuate that he made the extraordinary haste in order to be the first to inform and congratulate Mr [illegible] which he Bill had ardently desired all the time but I guess this is only a play on Bill's propensity to worship none but the rising suns.

The Union men of Salem got out the loud mouthed cannon yesterday afternoon and made it boom again and again in rejoicing that Oregon will after the 4th of next March, have none but the true Union grit in Congress. The rejoicing at the election of so good a man as Mr Corbett was frank, sincere and unrestrained among all the Union men of whom a great number were here yesterday.

Probably the next great struggle will be over a registry law. The Union members, last year were weak in the back on this measure, but public sentiment this year is strongly in favor of it and probably no member who values the good opinion of his constituents, will shirk his duty in regard to a law so necessary in a new country to preserve the purity of the ballot box.

SOMETHING NEW!

THE NEW LIGHT!

DANFORD'S

Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance the chimney is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided. It is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps. It is the cheapest artificial light that can be used yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene corner of Morrison and First streets.

THAT OLD GREENBACK [illegible]

I am still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec. 27, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick Store corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb 17 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.
